

Cascade Clamp

Cascade Clamps - Founded in Portland, Oregon in 1943, the Cascade Manufacturing Company began as a small machine store hiring only four individuals. Total sales for that initial year totaled $60,000. The very first recorded sales revenues involved the assembly and machining of stainless-steel pipe fittings, valves and various components. Throughout 5 years of operation, the company had expanded to forty staff and their annual sales volume had increased to $330,000. These days, Cascade is among the top worldwide producers within the material handling trade.

Design and manufacturing of the company's very first hydraulic cylinder allowed this new company to aggressively engage in new business possibilities. Throughout the last sixty years, the business of material handling has grown into a very sophisticated field with Cascade proudly playing a part in its progress. Cascade currently continues to develop as the best supplier of forklift attachments and numerous related items. The company feels confident in their skill to continue to lead the way in the business by understanding customer's needs in the future and remaining competitive in the international market.

In the 1950's, Cascade started designing, making and selling hydraulic attachments. Manufacturing was finished in 1956 on a brand new office to be able to accommodate all office and plant operations in Portland, Oregon at the company's current center of operations. After fifteen years of business, total workers reached a hundred and eighty employees and sales had reached almost two million three hundred thousand dollars.

A second production plant was built in 1959 in Springfield, Ohio. 1960 marked Cascade's initial move into the international world of the material handling industry when the business established interest in England, Australia, and the Netherlands.

In 1964, the business changed its name to the Cascade Corporation. After that in the year 1965, the company went public with a preliminary offering of 200,000 shares of common stock. Since then the company has expanded its manufacturing facilities within the continental USA to the areas Warner Robins Georgia to go along with its already existing plants in Portland, Oregon and Springfield, Ohio. Cascade merchandise are fabricated globally thanks to numerous subsidiary operations. In the year 1944, a brand new facility was accomplished in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European command center. This facility is designed to be the essential customer support centre.

Continuing to grow, Cascade expanded their product offering further in 1996 and the year 1997 with the remarkable acquisition of 5 companies, together with the international best in blades, the Kenhar Corporation.
